

Harnessing the Power of Motherhood: The National Florence Crittenton Mission, 1883-1925

The National Florence Crittenton Mission (N.F.C.M.), founded in 1883, pioneered rescue work to aid prostitutes, unmarried mothers, and their children through a large chain of institutional homes. In Harnessing the Power of Motherhood, Katherine G. Aiken explores the history of the N.F.C.M., painting a portrait of a politicized organization that became one of the most significant social welfare movements of its time. Aiken discusses the N.F.C.M.'s development, its programs and policies, and especially its influential leaders, Charles Nelson Crittenton and Dr. Kate Waller Barrett.

This was a common motto for rescue missions (see Lee, Mother Lees Experience, 26 by Protestant evangelical women, see Katherine G. Aiken, Harnessing the Power of Motherhood: The National Florence Crittenton Mission, 1883-1925). Harnessing the Power of Motherhood: The National Florence Crittenton Mission, 1883-1925. Front Cover. Katherine G. Aiken. University of Tennessee Press, 1998. See, for example, Katherine G. Aiken, Harnessing the Power of Motherhood: The National Florence Crittenton Mission, 1883-1925 (Knoxville, 1998). Joanne Most widely held works about National Florence Crittenton Mission. Harnessing the power of motherhood : the National Florence Crittenton Mission, 1883-1925 Book Review: Harnessing the Power of Motherhood: The National Florence Crittenton Mission, 1883-1925. Show all authors. Jonathan Fast Jonathan Fast. Harnessing the Power of Motherhood: The National Florence Crittenton Mission, 1883-1925. By Katherine G. Aiken. (Knoxville: University of Tennessee Press, 1998). Harnessing the Power of Motherhood : The National Florence Crittenton Mission, 1883-1925. by Katherine G. Aiken. No Customer Reviews Harnessing the Power of Motherhood: The National Florence Crittenton Mission, 1883-1925 by Katherine G. Aiken (1998-11-02): Katherine G. Aiken: Books Katherine G. Aiken, Harnessing the Power of Motherhood: The National Florence Crittenton Mission, 1883-1925 (Knoxville: University of Tennessee Press, 2000). Elizabeth J. Clapp (and others) published: Harnessing the Power of Motherhood: The National Florence Crittenton Mission, 1883-1925. Mining Company, 1885-1981, and Harnessing the Power of Motherhood: The National Florence Crittenton Mission, 1883-1925, and more on . On Aug 1, 2000 Victoria W. Wolcott published: Harnessing the Power of Motherhood: The National Florence Crittenton Mission, 1883-1925 by Katherine G. On Jun 1, 2000 Rickie Solinger published: Harnessing the Power of Motherhood: The National Florence Crittenton Mission, 1883-1925. - Buy Harnessing the Power of Motherhood: The National Florence Crittenton Mission, 1883-1925 book online at best prices in India on Amazon.in. Harnessing the Power of Motherhood: The National Florence Crittenton Mission, 1883-1925. By Katherine G. Aiken. Knoxville, TN: University of Tennessee Press, 1998. Hardcover. Idaho: The Heroic Journey. $10.73. Hardcover. Harnessing the Power of Motherhood: The National Florence Crittenton Mission, 1883-1925. $135.99